

This project is finished by the author totally. He does a lot of experiments based on the different neural network structures, for example resnet. This project also uses the TSNE tools to visualize the latent space, which can tell us the feature extracted by the network. The project provides rich experiment results. However, this project should add more mathematical formula to give more details about the scattering network and explore further mathematical technique in the conclusion.

4 point